

PROVYS®

Dependable driving of your TV station

The right path

„DCIT started to develop and deploy PROVYS in 1995. Throughout our history of serving the media segment the number of PROVYS customers has been increasing every year.“

Jan Pavelka, CEO, DCIT, s.r.o.

PROVYS is an integrated software solution for channel management, production management and airtime sales operations. It satisfies all key needs of television broadcasters at both managerial and operational level and is ready to meet specific customer priorities and expectations.

„We´ve been delighted to see a fully functional and very flexible product covering all our needs in channel management and production planning today and also in the future. The key factors why we've chosen PROVYS are: the best balance of quality and price, no functionality gaps vis a vis our requirements, and good feedback from broadcasters using PROVYS already.“

Ainar Sepp, IT Manager, Estonian Television

PROVYS installations benefit from a robust architecture of the off-the-shelf product combined with the openness of its configurability according to individual needs. PROVYS technology is based on the industry standards of both IT and broadcast industry as well as on its development team's sound know-how.

Stability

Reliability

„While using the PROVYS TVoffice solution, BFBS has been able to increase the number of channels from one to three without requirements for additional human resources in planning, acquisition and scheduling departments.“

Richard Hulme, Head of Scheduling, SSVC

PROVYS software is accompanied by a set of excellent services provided by the PROVYS team, including deployment, customization, user support, and technical support around the clock.

Flexibility

“We use PROVYS for scheduling 8 distinct channels. The use of PROVYS integrated with our broadcasting centre allowed us to increase automation and level of detail of our transmission schedules, speed of the traffic management, and quality of our broadcasting.”

Andreea Buga, Vice President of Operations and Studios, Zone Vision

PROVYS is used by both commercial and non-commercial TV companies in the EU area. Thanks to its flexibility, PROVYS is suitable for organizations of all sizes, from small ones to large stations with regionally scattered processes.
